Correlation measures how assets and markets move in relation to each other, and can be used to manage risk. Choosing assets with low correlation with each other can help to reduce the risk of a portfolio. Beta measures a stock's volatility in relation to the overall market.

Investment Approach

The EMSights Capital Group employs in-depth fundamental research and robust operational capabilities across a broad opportunity set to uncover knowledge gaps that can lead to idiosyncratic opportunities with compelling risk-adjusted return potential.

Organizational Structure

The team's structure is flat and collaborative, with daily communications between portfolio managers and analysts, who share the responsibility of idea generation. Portfolio managers and analysts determine their own focus areas and pursue them from an idea generation perspective. Trading and implementation is embedded within the investment team, as trading capabilities and infrastructure are considered important components of the investment process.

Idea Generation Through Broad Investment Universe

EMSights covers a broad spectrum of global markets comprising investable assets across more than 100 countries. The team constantly performs fundamental country research and monitors financial markets in order to understand each countries' policy environments and how important policy moments may alter their investment environment. The team's corporate analysis includes decomposing yields and examining corporate liquidity and solvency risks. Environmental, social and governance (ESG) analysis is integrated at the country and corporate levels.

Portfolio Implementation

Investment opportunities are analyzed based on risk factors—the forces that drive security and instrument prices. The investment team and trading and implementation team work together to consider which instruments may provide optimal risk-adjusted returns. The trading and implementation team expands the investment universe by understanding and overcoming investment barriers.

Past performance does not guarantee and is not a reliable indicator of future results. Investment returns and principal values will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than that shown. Call 800.344.1770 for current to most recent month-end performance. Performance shown does not reflect the deduction of a 2% redemption fee on shares held for 90 days or less and, if reflected, the fee would reduce the performance quoted.

Carefully consider the Fund's investment objective, risks and charges and expenses. This and other important information is contained in the Fund's prospectus and summary prospectus, which can be obtained by visiting www.artisanpartners.com/prospectus. Read carefully before investing.

These materials are presented in connection with an offer of the shares of a Fund in the series of Artisan Partners Funds, Inc. These materials are not an offer for any other mutual fund mentioned. A purchase of shares of an Artisan Partners Fund does not create an investment advisory relationship between the investor and Artisan Partners Limited Partnership, the investment adviser to the Fund. In addition to acting as investment adviser to the Fund, Artisan Partners provides institutional investment management services. This is not an offering of shares of any funds other than Artisan Partners Funds.

Investment Risks: Current and future portfolio holdings are subject to risk. The value of portfolio securities selected by the investment team may rise or fall in response to company, market, economic, political, regulatory or other news, at times greater than the market or benchmark index. A portfolio's environmental, social and governance ("ESG") considerations may limit the investment opportunities available and, as a result, the portfolio may forgo certain investment opportunities and underperform portfolios that do not consider ESG factors. Non-diversified portfolios may invest larger portions of assets in securities of a smaller number of issuers and performance of a single issuer may have a greater impact to the portfolio's returns. International investments involve special risks, including currency fluctuation, lower liquidity, different accounting methods and economic and political systems, and higher transaction costs. These risks typically are greater in emerging and less developed markets, including frontier markets, and include new and rapidly changing political and economic structures, which may cause instability; underdeveloped securities markets; and higher likelihood of high levels of inflation, deflation or currency devaluations. Fixed income securities carry interest rate risk and credit risk for both the issuer and counterparty and investors may lose principal value. In general, when interest rates rise, fixed income values fall. High yield securities (junk bonds) are speculative, experience greater price volatility and have a higher degree of credit and liquidity risk than bonds with a higher credit rating. Use of derivatives may create investment leverage and increase the likelihood of volatility and risk of loss in excess of the amount invested.

ICE BofA US High Yield Index measures the performance of below investment grade SUS-denominated corporate bonds publicly issued in the US market. US Treasury 10 Year Constant Maturity Index measures the yield received for investing in a US government issued treasury security that has a maturity of 10 year. ICE BofA 3-Month US Treasury Bill Index is an unmanaged index that comprises a single U.S. Treasury issue with approximately three months to final maturity, purchased at the beginning of each month and held for one full month. S&P 500® Index measures the performance of 500 US companies focused on the large-cap sector of the market. The index(es) are unmanaged; include net reinvested dividends; do not reflect fees or expenses; and are not available for direct investment.

Yield is the income returned on an investment, such as the interest received from holding a security. Sharpe Ratio is a measure of risk-adjusted return—it is the average return earned in excess of the risk-free rate per unit of volatility or total risk. The risk-free proxy used to calculate Sharpe ratio is 3-month Treasury bill. Standard Deviation defines how widely returns varied from an average over a given period of time. Higher deviation represents higher volatility. Risk-Free Rate is the theoretical rate of return of an investment with zero risk.
